1. The Minutes of the Meeting of the Faculty of Arts held on the 9th March, 1907, were confirmed.

2. With reference to Faculty of Arts resolution No. 19, dated the 9th March, 1907, the Meeting resumed the discussion on the question of the establishment of an University Chair of Education as proposed by Government—(vide Appendix A).

After some discussion in which the Hon'ble Sir George Knox, the Director of Public Instruction, U. P., and Messrs. Jennings, Jones, and McGavin Spence, Dr. Bare and Rai Bahadur G. N. Chakravarti took part, it was resolved, on a motion by the Dean of the Faculty, that the report of the Board of Studies in Teaching be adopted—(vide Appendix B).

3. In compliance with Senate resolution No. XLIII, dated the 11th March, 1907, the Meeting elected the following eleven members for the Sub-Committee to consider the courses of study prescribed by A, Regulation 6, Chapter XIII, of the University Regulations:—

Dr. A. H. Ewing.

Rev. Canon G. H. Westcott.

Pt. Ganga Nath Jha.

Mr. Sanjiban Ganguli.

The Hon'ble Sir George Knox.

Mr. M. B. Cameron.

Rai Bahadur G. N. Chakravarti.

It was also resolved that the Registrar be instructed to call a Meeting of the aforesaid Sub-Committee at a convenient time in November next when both the Faculties of Arts and Science are present in Allahabad.

4. No report having been received from the Board of Studies in Political Economy on the scheme for the institution of an M. A. degree in Economics, the question was dropped.

5. Mr. T. C. Jones proposed :—

“That the Faculty of Arts recommend to the Senate that Chapter XIV, section 4, of the University Regulations, be changed to read as follows :—

“4. Every candidate for the B.A. degree shall be required to show a competent knowledge of three distinct branches of study.

The branches recognised are—

1. English.
2. Classical Languages (i.e., Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Arabic or Arabic with Persian, Sanskrit)
3. History.
4. Political Economy.
5. Mental and Moral Science.
6. Mathematics.
7. Modern Languages (i.e., French, German, Italian) including History and Literature.

“Every candidate shall offer himself for examination in English and in any other two recognised branches of study.”

The proposal was seconded by Mr. Pirie.

Dr. Ewing supported the proposal and declared himself in favour of the Classical Languages being made optional.

Pandit Ganga Nath Jha proposed as an amendment “that the proposal brought forward by Mr Jones be referred to a Committee consisting of the eleven members who have been elected by the Faculty of Arts under resolution No. 3, above, with the addition of Mr. Jones, who will also act as Convener of the Committee and will submit the report of the Committee to the Faculty of Arts

This amendment was seconded by the Rev. Mr. Holland.

Mahamahopadhyaya Pandit Aditya Ram Bhattacharya in supporting the amendment of Pandit Ganga Nath Jha spoke very strongly in favour of compulsory Classical Languages or compulsory Mathematics. He objected to the existence of conditions under which it might be possible to obtain a B.A. degree without either a Classical Language or Mathematics.

The amendment was put to vote and carried.

6. The Meeting then considered the following motion by the Rev. Dr. Ewing :—

“That the Faculty of Arts request the Senate to add to the Regulations, Chapter VI, section 3, the following words :

“The Registrar may be a member of the Senate, but may not be a member of the Syndicate.”

After a brief discussion the motion was withdrawn.

APPENDIX A.

Copy of para. 2 of G. O. No. 542/XV-782A, dated 16th June, 1906, Education Department, to the Director of Public Instruction, U. P., suggesting the establishment of an University Chair of Education.

2. In reply, I am to propose for consideration the following scheme for the Training College at Allahabad. The first, and most essential, step would be to establish an University Chair in the theory of education, and obtain for it from England a professor on a salary of Rs. 500—50—1,000 a month. This would be part of a scheme of a teaching University, and the professor would lecture on the theoretical side of education, but only to graduates. In the theoretical part of their work the training of junior and senior teachers would be separate, but all the students would do their practical work in the Training College and the model school attached to it. A separate boarding house would not be needed in connection with this scheme, for the post-graduate students would live, like other University students, in the existing hostels.

I am to ask that the scheme may be laid before the Board of Studies of the University. If it is accepted the professor would be designated the Professor of Education in the University, and it would be a part of his duty to superintend and advise the Principal of the Training College.

APPENDIX B.

Report of the Board of Studies in Teaching upon the reference made to it by the Syndicate in its resolution No. 31 of August 11th, 1906.

The Board would point out that since the Government Training College at Allahabad is of the type known as elementary in Great Britain, it is not capable of supplying a proper secondary training of the quality required for the University Diploma in Teaching ; and that without thorough reorganisation it could not be raised to the secondary standard.

The Board does not consider that the scheme for establishing a University Chair in education, as outlined in para. 2 of G. O. No. 542/XV—782A, dated 16th June, 1906, affords a guarantee that the above objection would be more than partially met ; and it is doubtful whether the difficulty of co-ordinating the higher work for the Diploma with that for the Departmental Certificate in Teaching and the division of authority between the Principal of the College and the University Professor of Education might not lead to friction in actual working. The Board is also of opinion that the course laid down for the Diploma is more than could be overtaken by one lecturer. A further and more serious objection is that the Allahabad Training College is not capable of further expansion without injuring its efficiency. Already the amount of teaching that can be done by the students in the practising school is less than is required for thorough practical training, and any increase to the number of students would necessitate a further diminution in its amount.

The only satisfactory solution seems to the Board to be the establishment of a separate higher grade training college for the training of graduates. As pointed out in the Government of India's resolution on Indian Educational Policy, para. 39, the course of training for graduates differs essentially from that for men of lower attainments, and secondary training to be fully effective must be given by men of the highest academical qualifications, who have themselves been trained at a training institution for secondary teachers.

With the improvement of the pay and prospects of teachers and inspecting officers that has recently taken place, the number of graduates desiring to enter the teaching profession is increasing, and if a well equipped higher grade training college were established candidates for admission to it would, the Board believes, be forthcoming in sufficient numbers. The number of graduates reading in the Central Training College, Lahore, during 1905-1906 was 35. It would not be necessary probably at first to provide for more than 20 or 30 students ; and since there would be no need to supply, as at the Allahabad Training College, education as well as training, a staff of two lecturers should be sufficient to begin with. For the same reason also an elaborate equipment would not be necessary. This scheme would be therefore hardly more expensive than the proposed alternative of a University Professor of Education.

Finally, the Board considers that, having regard to the importance of moulding the character of future teachers and fostering a spirit of professional unity a residential training college is to be preferred to a day training college.

No. $\frac{444}{XV-601A}$ of 1907.

FROM

F. E. TAYLOR, Esq., I.C.S.,
SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT,
UNITED PROVINCES,

To

THE REGISTRAR,
ALLAHABAD UNIVERSITY.

Dated Naini Tal, 18th May, 1907.

SIR,

ected to enclose a copy of the Government of India, Department, letter No. 337, dated the 4th May, 1907, with copy of its enclosure, for the information of the Senate of the Allahabad University.

2. I am to say that in the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor some of the students in Allahabad have been taking a more active part in political meetings than is desirable, and that the present attitude of certain students there is such as to demand the very careful attention of the University authorities. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts that no need will arise for enforcing the penalties which the Government of India refer to, but it is essential that any attempt to convert colleges into centres for the dissemination of political doctrines of any kind whatever should be sternly repressed.

3. As regards Government schools and colleges I am to say that instructions are being issued to the Director of Public Instruction for the guidance of Principals and Headmasters of Government colleges and schools, and should any action by the University be desired in respect of these institutions you will be addressed hereafter.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient servant,

F. E. TAYLOR,

Secretary.

SIR,

I AM directed to forward, for the information of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, a copy of a letter which has been addressed to the Governments of Bengal, Eastern Bengal and Assam and Burma, on the subject of the measures to be taken with the object of protecting higher education in India from the evils which result from the active participation of teachers and pupils in political movements. The Governor-General in Council trusts that the principles there laid down will commend themselves to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, and that he will endeavour to give effect to them in his administration of the Universities Act.

I have the honour to be,

THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO THE GOVERNMENT OF BURMA.

E d u c a t i o n.

Simla, the 4th May, 1907.

SIR,

I AM directed to address you on the subject of the principles to be observed and the line of action to be followed with the object of protecting higher education in India from the dangers with which it is threatened by the tendency of both teachers and pupils to associate themselves with political movements and to take a prominent part in organizing and carrying out overt acts of political agitation. This tendency is of comparatively recent growth, and the Government of India have hitherto refrained from adopting specific measures to counteract its effects in the belief that parents, teachers and the more sensible or less impressionable students could not fail to realize that the spirit of lawlessness and resistance to authority thus engendered among the young is bound in the long run to set back the advance of genuine education, to injure the material prospects of the students, and to subvert the traditional foundations of Indian family life. The Governor-General in Council entertains no doubt that the great majority of sensible Indian parents, whatever may be their political opinions, regard with the gravest apprehension the imminent danger that education will be interfered with and the efficiency of schools and colleges impaired by the minds of pupils and students being diverted from their proper work and by the relaxation of discipline which must inevitably result from their being allowed to take part in political agitation.

2. The question affects the entire field of higher education, but the principles to be applied and the procedure to be adopted will differ according as school-boys or college students, schoolmasters or professors of colleges have to be dealt with. The case of the pupils of high schools presents little difficulty. In the interests of the boys themselves it is clearly undesirable that they should be distracted from their work by attending political meetings or engaging in any form of political agitation. In the event of such misconduct being persisted in and encouraged or permitted by the masters or the managing authorities, the offending school can after due warning be dealt with—

- (a) by the local Government, which has the power of withdrawing any grant-in aid and of withholding the privilege of competing for scholarships and of receiving scholarship holders;
- (b) by the University, which can withdraw recognition from the school, the effect of which is to prevent it from sending up pupils as candidates for the Matriculation examination.

Action under the first head can be taken by the local Government of its own motion without reference to the University. Should this measure prove inadequate, and should it be thought necessary to have recourse to the more severe punishment of withdrawal of recognition or the threat thereof, the facts of the case should be reported to the University which alone is legally competent to inflict the requisite penalty. In such cases, I am to request that, following the practice of the Government of India in conducting their own correspondence with the University, the communication may be addressed to the Registrar through the Rector of the Calcutta University.

3. The case of students of affiliated colleges stands on a somewhat different footing. They are no longer school-boys but undergraduates, and a certain proportion of them are Bachelors of Arts who may reasonably claim some wider liberty of action than is permitted to school-boys. In regard to them, therefore, the Government of India are not prepared to lay down as a general rule that mere attendance at political meetings, as distinguished from taking an active part in their proceedings, would necessarily call for the adoption of disciplinary measures against the college. Although, however, they admit that the degree of discipline which is essential for a school-boy may be inappropriate and even undesirable in the case of a student, still they must insist upon the principle that colleges exist for the purpose of education, and they cannot regard with indifference the conversion of such institutions into centres for the dissemination of political doctrines of whatever character. If therefore certain students of an affiliated college were to attend political meetings and there so conduct themselves as to bring undesirable notoriety upon their college, or to engage in political agitation in such a way as to interfere with the corporate life and educational work of the place, and still more if such propagandism assumed the form of picketing and open violence, it is obvious that the local Government concerned could no longer remain passive but would be bound, in the interests of education, to take steps to procure the withdrawal from the college, at any rate for a period, of the privilege of affiliation to the University. In such a case it would probably be desirable in the first instance that a formal warning should be addressed to the Principal of the college by the Director of Public Instruction. If that warning were disregarded the facts of the case would be reported by the local Government through the Rector to the Syndicate of the University. It would then rest with any member of the Syndicate to initiate by formal motion the procedure laid down in section 24 of the Universities Act.

4. The further question arises how far participation of schoolmasters or professors of colleges in political movements may be held to call for disciplinary action against the institution in which they are employed. As to this I am to say that the Government of India recognize that in this matter the masters of high English schools should not be treated as being on the same footing as their pupils. Although it is the firm intention of the Governor-General in Council to neglect no means of preventing schools and colleges from being turned into centres of political agitation, he does not wish unduly to circumscribe the liberty of individual teachers. A schoolmaster has a right to his own opinions as much as any one else, but he is subject to very special responsibilities, and it is recognized in every civilized country that these responsibilities limit the extent to which he is entitled to give expression to his individual views. If, therefore, the public utterances of a schoolmaster are of such a character as to endanger the orderly development of the boys under his charge by introducing into their immature minds doctrines subversive of their respect for authority and calculated to impair their usefulness as citizens and to hinder their advancement in after-life, his proceedings must be held to constitute a dereliction of duty and may properly be visited with disciplinary action. Still more will this be the case if he is found to have personally conducted his pupils to a political meeting or to have deliberately encouraged their attendance at such a meeting for the purpose of educating them in his own political views.

5. The principle here laid down extends also to college professors, but it cannot be applied so fully. A professor is dealing with more advanced and more responsible material than a schoolmaster, and it is everywhere recognized that he may claim a larger discretion in respect of the expression of opinion. But he also has his special obligations. If he abuses his position by diverting the minds of his students to political agitation, if he encourages them to attend political meetings or personally conducts them to such meetings, or if, while avoiding open propagandism, he adopts a line of action which disturbs and disorganizes the life and work of the college at which he is employed, and if the governing body of the college fail to check such abuse, then it is clearly the duty of the University to interfere in the interest of the educational efficiency of which it is the constituted guardian. If the University were to refuse to control its affiliated colleges in this respect, it would fail to carry out the educational trust with which the law has invested it, and it would be the duty of the Government to intervene.

I have the honour to be,

SIR

Your most obedient servant,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of India.

VI.—The Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor explained to the Meeting that there having already been two vacancies among the Ordinary Fellows of the University elected by the Senate, caused by the appointment of Mr. de la Fosse as Director of Public Instruction and the death of Mr. Knox Johnson, no ballot had to be held under section 12 (l) (i) of the Universities Act of 1904. The Senate, he said, could therefore at once elect any two of the three gentlemen whose names had been proposed (vide appendix), the 9th of November having been fixed by His Honour the Chancellor to fill up the two vacancies thus caused. The Meeting thereupon proceeded to vote for the two vacancies and Mr. J. J. Durack, M.A., Professor, Muir Central College, and Mr. A. W. Collie, M.A., Vice-Principal, Central Hindu College, were elected.

Report of the Meeting of the Sub-Committee, appointed by Syndicate Resolution No. 112, dated the 12th January, 1907, to consider suggestions regarding the conduct of the annual Convocation of the University, held on the 25th September, 1907, as amended by the Syndicate.

- (a) That the Syndicate at its August meeting each year appoint Proctors (12 in number) to conduct the annual Convocation of the University.
- (b) That one of the Proctors be appointed senior Proctor.
- (c) That the entire management of the Convocation including the arrangement of seats, etc., in the Hall be in the hands of the aforesaid Proctors.
- (d) That the Proctors be present throughout the Convocation to conduct visitors and graduates to their respective seats and to maintain order.
- (e) That a strictly limited number of tickets be issued both for Hall and Gallery.
- (f) That the practice of sending two spare invitation cards to each Honorary Fellow and Ordinary Fellow be discontinued ; but applications for tickets should be made to the Registrar.

APPENDIX F.

Report of the Board of Studies in Teaching upon the reference made to it by the Syndicate in its resolution No. 31 of August 11th, 1906.

The Board would point out that since the Government Training College at Allahabad is of the type known as elementary in Great Britain, it is not capable of supplying a proper secondary training of the quality required for the University Diploma in Teaching; and that without thorough reorganisation it could not be raised to the secondary standard.

The Board does not consider that the scheme for establishing a University Chair in education, as outlined in para. 2 of G. O. No. 542/XV—782A, dated 16th June, 1906, affords a guarantee that the above objection would be more than partially met; and it is doubtful whether the difficulty of co-ordinating the higher work for the Diploma with that for the Departmental Certificate in Teaching and the division of authority between the Principal of the College and the University Professor of Education might not lead to friction in actual working. The Board is also of opinion that the course laid down for the Diploma is more than could be overtaken by one lecturer. A further and more serious objection is that the Allahabad Training College is not capable of further expansion without injuring its efficiency. Already the amount of teaching that can be done by the students in the practising school is less than is required for thorough practical training, and any increase to the number of students would necessitate a further diminution in its amount.

The only satisfactory solution seems to the Board to be the establishment of a separate higher grade training college for the training of graduates. As pointed out in the Government of India's resolution on Indian Educational Policy, para. 39, the course of training for graduates differs essentially from that for men of lower attainments; and secondary training to be fully effective must be given by men of the highest academical qualifications, who have themselves been trained at a training institution for secondary teachers.

With the improvement of the pay and prospects of teachers and inspecting officers that has recently taken place, the number of graduates desiring to enter the teaching profession is increasing, and if a well equipped higher grade training college were established candidates for admission to it would, the Board believes, be forthcoming in sufficient numbers. The number of graduates reading in the Central Training College, Lahore, during 1905-06 was 35. It would not be necessary probably at first to provide for more than 20 or 30 students ; and since there would be no need to supply, as at the Allahabad Training College, education as well as training, a staff of two lecturers should be sufficient to begin with. For the same reason also an elaborate equipment would not be necessary. This scheme would be therefore hardly more expensive than the proposed alternative of a University Professor of Education.

Finally, the Board considers that, having regard to the importance of moulding the character of future teachers and fostering a spirit of professional unity, a residential training college is to be preferred to a day training college.

*Copy of para. 2 of G. O. No. 542/XV—782A, dated 16th June, 1906
Education Department, to the Director of Public Instruction, U. P., suggesting the establishment of an University Chair of Education.*

2. In reply, I am to propose for consideration the following scheme for the Training College at Allahabad. The first and most essential step would be to establish an University Chair in the theory of education, and obtain for it from England a professor on a salary of Rs. 500—50—1,000 a month. This would be part of a scheme of a teaching University, and the professor would lecture on the theoretical side of education, but only to graduates. In the theoretical part of their work the training of junior and senior teachers would be separate, but all the students would do their practical work in the Training College and the model school attached to it. A separate boarding house would not be needed in connection with this scheme, for the post-graduate students would live, like other University students, in the existing hostels.

I am to ask that the scheme may be laid before the Board of Studies of the University. If it is accepted the professor would be designated the Professor of Education in the University, and it would be a part of his duty to superintend and advise the Principal of the Training College.

CONVOCATION, NOVEMBER 11, 1907.

The Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor having declared Convocation open, the Arts, Science and Law Graduates of the year 1907 were admitted to their respective Degrees in the usual manner.

The Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor then addressed Convocation. —

YOUR HONOUR AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE.—With the permission of His Honour, the Chancellor, I propose to lay before you a short resumé of the work done during the last year and to invite your attention to certain points concerning education in these Provinces.

Before I do so, allow me to refer to the loss sustained by the University by the resignation of Dr. G. Thibaut, PH. D., C I E., of his office of Fellow of this University. He was one of the oldest Fellows, having been appointed, shortly after the establishment of this University, in 1889. During the many years of his connection with the University, he took a keen and active interest in its affairs and had no small share in shaping its development. He rendered valuable services to the University as a member of the Syndicate and of the Faculties of Arts and Science and of the several Boards of Studies, of which a man of his versatile attainments could not but be a prominent member. His profound learning, great experience and ripe judgment were always at the disposal of the University, and by his retirement we suffer a heavy loss. The death of Pandit Bishambhar Nath has deprived the University of another valued colleague who took a prominent share in the work of the University for about thirteen years and who, on its re-constitution in 1904, became an Honorary Fellow. He was a distinguished Vakil of the High Court, N.-W. Provinces, and rendered useful service to the University as a member of the Faculty of Law. By the death of Pandit Ikbāl Krishna also, we have lost a Fellow of much promise. The last and the most recent loss we have sustained, is in the death of Nawab Mohsin-ul-Mulk Bahadur. He was appointed a Fellow on the re-constitution of the University under the Indian Universities Act of 1904, but, as a lieutenant and colleague of the late Sir Syed Ahmad Khan Bahadur, his work in the cause of education began much earlier. On the much regretted death of Sir Syed Ahmad, he was elected Secretary of the Board of Trustees of the Mahomedan Anglo-Oriental College at Aligarh. He guided the affairs of the College with tact and ability. He was an earnest and ardent worker in the cause of Mahomedan Education, and during his tenure of office as Secretary, the College not only maintained its position but received expansion by the addition of the Science Classes and of the Arabic Department.

Among the important events of the year is the opening of the University School of Law in July last in the premises of the Muir Central College. The system of legal education which prevailed here, was acknowledged, on all hands, to be defective and imperfect. It was not favourably commented upon by the Indian Universities Commission, and the Government of India, in reviewing the report of the Commission, observed :—" That some reform is called for in the interest of a branch of education, which is of peculiar importance in India, will, the Governor-General believes, be generally admitted. No one will attempt to justify a system under which it is possible for legal education of students to be entrusted to a single teacher who is supposed to deliver formal lectures on all subjects required for the degree of Bachelor of Laws, while no library is provided for students to consult; and no attempts made to ascertain by means of essays or exercises how far they have assimilated the modicum of information that the lecturer is capable of imparting."

The University School of Law is intended to remedy this unsatisfactory state of affairs. The institution will be in charge of a whole-time Professor of Law on a salary of Rs. 1,000 per mensem, who will act as the Principal of the School, and will be assisted by another Professor of Law on a salary of Rs. 400 per mensem and two Assistant Professors on Rs. 250 a month. Provision is also made in the scheme for the appointment of special lecturers on special subjects, and we hope to have, hereafter, when funds permit, special lecturers on Hindu and Mahomedan Law possessing a knowledge of the original texts so as to promote the study of these ancient legal systems. The School will be under the control of a Committee, of which the Vice-Chancellor of the University, the Chief Justice of the High Court, N.-W. Provinces, and the Director of Public Instruction for the United Provinces will be ex-officio members. The Government, the High Court and the Bar, who are all deeply interested in legal education, will be represented on this Committee, and the Vakils' Association, N.-W. Provinces, and the Bar Library will be requested to nominate some of their members as visitors of this institution.

Within the last few years, with the growth of the University, the work of the Registrar has increased considerably, and his numerous duties in connection with the administration of the affairs of the University occupy all his time. It has, therefore, been decided to secure the services of a whole-time man on a salary of Rs. 500 per mensem, rising by annual increments of Rs. 50 to Rs. 750 a month. Under the Regulations of the University, the term for which the Registrar is appointed is three years, but, at the expiration of that period, he is eligible for re-election.

I will not detain you with a statement of the facts and figures relating to the results of the examinations of this year. The Registrar has been good enough to prepare a clear and succinct note which is now in print before you, and to which I refer you for details of those results and of the prizes, medals and other distinctions won by the successful candidates.

Gentlemen, as you are aware, our University system has received a thorough overhauling since the passing of the Indian Universities Act of 1904. As might have been expected, the system of secondary education prevailing in the United Provinces is now going through the same process. The University has directly no concern with education in the schools. It is none the less materially interested in it, as it is from the schools that our colleges must be recruited. Collegiate education begins at the stage at which school education ends. The University has, no doubt, by the courses, which it has from time to time prescribed for the Entrance and School-Final Examinations, controlled the curriculum of studies in the upper classes of the schools, but it is in its turn controlled by a consideration of what the schools can teach. It is pleasing to find that the subject is now receiving the attention its importance demands. Secondary education has here, as elsewhere, "to adjust itself to the changes in the conditions of modern life, to the new social needs, and above all, to the movements in thought and opinion which underlie national institutions and inevitably affect their spirit and form." "Everywhere," according to Mr. Sadler, "educational opinion shows signs of almost feverish unrest. Everywhere there is a sense of impending change. Everywhere experiments are being tried in the hope of finding some better adjustment of school and college training to the needs of modern life." A study of literary subjects has, in the past in all countries, been accepted as a valuable training for the mind, and I have no doubt that for all time to come, it will continue to hold its own. Without, therefore, meaning, even for a moment, to under-rate the importance of literary courses of study, I would venture to ask—Should we not, circumstanced as we are in India, encourage the study of science much more largely than we have done in the past? No less a careful observer of the signs of the times than Sir Norman Lockyer has said: "An industrial battle between the foremost nations is always going on, and in the struggle for existence in each market the fittest nation will survive. Each nation depends for its life upon its industry. Industry depends upon science. The progress of science depends upon the number of men of science at work in each country. This number chiefly depends upon the education afforded in each country." What is true of Europe is also true of India. We have lost nearly all ground in the industrial world. Should we not try to recover a part at least of the ground so lost? I think it is absolutely necessary that our young men should be encouraged to study science more largely than has been the case in the past. We have had only 50 candidates this year who went up for the degree of Bachelor of Science as against 424 for that of Bachelor of Arts. I am glad to observe that, in connection with the proposed scheme for the School Leaving Certificate examination, greater facilities are contemplated for the practical teaching of science in schools. The list of optional subjects includes Physics and Chemistry, Physiography, a further course in Mathematics, Botany, Agriculture, Drawing and Manual Training. A scheme to provide our schools with separate laboratories for physics and chemistry and a workshop with the necessary apparatus and appliances, has, I believe, been placed before the Government for consideration. A more thorough and a more practical knowledge of these subjects imparted in the schools, will materially help the University in further developing the study of science in the colleges, and will, I hope, lead to the enlargement of the scope and practical usefulness of the Matriculation and the Intermediate examinations.

It is a matter for satisfaction that the Government has established at the Muir Central College a chair of Biology, which is now a subject of study for the degree of B.Sc. With botany included in the curriculum of schools, it will, I think, be an improvement to introduce Biology as one of the optional subjects for the Intermediate examination, leading to a further study of it for graduation in science. A chair in Geology and Mineralogy is also very much needed. I find that in all other Universities in India, this is a recognized branch of study and is one of the optional subjects for graduation. The Indian Universities Commission recommended it as one of the subjects for examination for the degree of B.Sc., but we are in the unique position of having no chair for the subject in any of our affiliated colleges. It is no doubt true that the greater portion of the country within the area of the United Provinces consists of vast stretches of plains. But the limits of the University include the Central Provinces, Rajputana and Kumaon, all, more or less, mountainous tracts, abounding in mineral wealth; and it would, it seems to me, be a distinct advantage that either the University or the principal State College in the Provinces should have on its staff a Professor of Geology and Mineralogy.

Gentlemen, as you are aware, at the invitation of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, a Conference sat in August last at Naini Tal to consider several important questions in connection with industrial and technical education. Among the matters which engaged the attention of the Conference, was the suggestion for the establishment of a high class Technological Institute for research and instruction, where students could receive instruction in chemical technology, mechanical engineering and other kindred subjects. It goes without saying that an institution like this is very urgently needed in these Provinces. As matters stand, our graduates in science have practically no openings in life. Most of our young men, who study in our colleges, come from the middle classes, who must earn their livelihood. The result is that one sometimes sees a young man, after some years of post-graduate study and research work in science, compelled to accept an appointment in the subordinate executive service, or to join the profession of law. Our graduates flock to the already crowded professions and swell the throng of office-seekers. They cannot acquire a practical knowledge of the application of science to industry, as there is at present no institution where such knowledge is imparted. The cost of maintaining an institution like this will, no doubt, be large. The cost of the Manchester Institute was about £300,000. or 45 lacs, and that of Charlottenburg about £500,000 or 75 lacs; the annual expenditure of the former is six lacs, and that of the latter about ten lacs and a half. According to Sir Norman Lockyer, for the up-keep of seven out of twenty-two Universities, the annual sum found in Germany chiefly by the State comes up to £271,000. When these figures are borne in mind, the cost of the institute proposed should not stand in the way of its establishment. Its advantages will abundantly repay the outlay. It will provide an opening for graduates in science and will, I hope, divert many of them to the useful paths of industry and research. In such an institution our graduates, who have studied the general principles of science in colleges, will be able to master the various methods of the practical application of science to the needs and requirements of the present day. They will there learn with what extraordinary skill, in other and more advanced countries, men are "harnessing science in the service of business and the other tasks of modern life." They will there be able to carry on researches for the utilization of the vast material resources of our country, and thereby bring wealth and prosperity to our people, for "national capital is estimated in foot pounds of productive capacity, and not in the unused boardings of Mother Nature." And when the knowledge thus gained by them has permeated among the people, as I devoutly hope it will, and is utilized by them, I am sure, it will prove to be a most potent factor in promoting the prosperity, happiness and contentment of the Indian people.

Graduates of the University, let me, before I conclude, address a few words to you in the hope that you will bear them in mind in your future struggles in life. You have received the best education that our colleges can impart, and it is now for you to make the best use you can of your acquirements, both to your own advantage and to the credit of your Alma Mater. You are going forth into the world with the hall-mark of the University, and your Alma Mater will, you may be sure, watch your careers with affectionate concern. In whatever sphere of life you may be placed and whatever duties may fall to your lot, your one anxiety should be to play your part well and honourably. Work with hope and courage and let not difficulties, which are in most cases more apparent than real, daunt you.

“The wise and active conquer difficulties,
By daring to attempt them: sloth and folly
Shiver and shrink at sight of toil and danger,
And make the impossibility they fear.”

Study the lives of great men of all ages and countries, and note how they achieved success in spite of trials and difficulties. Let a similar spirit animate you in all your endeavours, and even if you fail, you will have the satisfaction of having done your best. I cannot too strongly impress on you the responsibility, which the privilege of being graduates of the University entails upon you. The country expects from you greater and nobler service than from those, who have not had the same advantages of culture and enlightenment as you possess. It is by you, and you alone, that our vernacular literature can be enriched. It is only by your work and endeavours that the truths of western knowledge, science and discoveries can be brought home to your countrymen. Yours is the duty to develop the resources of your country. Yours must be the task to blend what is best of the West with what is best of the East, and to combine them into a harmonious whole. You cannot do better in this connection than to realize both in thought and action one great truth, contained in the observation of Lord Napier made many years ago, that “it is only by native hands that the full benefits of European civilization can be naturalized in India among the vast mysterious numbers, who live and suffer and labour under our benevolent but often blind and helpless sway.”

XIV. Under regulation 1, Chapter VI, of the University Regulations, Mr. A. E. Pierpoint, B.Sc., was appointed Registrar of the University vice Dr. Thibaut resigned.

XV. Under regulation 5, Chapter II, of the University Regulations, Dr. Hill was elected to the Syndicate vice Mr. Cox resigned.

XVI. On a proposal by the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor, seconded by Mr. Pirie, the following recommendations of the Syndicate (vide Syndicate resolution No. 33, dated the 10th August, 1907) were accepted.

(i) that regulation 10 (a), Chapter XX, (now XXI) of the University Regulations, be amended—

(a) by substituting "31st December 1909," for "31st December, 1908," in the 3rd and 4th lines of the regulation ;

(b) by substituting "1st November, 1907," for "1st November, 1906," in the last line of the said regulation ;

(ii) that after regulation 10 (a), Chapter XX, (now XXI) of the University Regulations, the following regulation be added, viz. :—

"10 (b). That for candidates entitled to admission to the LL.B. Examination under regulation 10 (a) supplementary examinations for the degree of LL.B. shall be held in 1908 and 1909 under the regulations in force prior to 1st November, 1905, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in these regulations the aforesaid regulations shall be deemed to be in force for the purpose of holding the said supplementary examinations."

XVII. Under section 19 of the Universities Act of 1904, the following applications for permission to appear at the examinations of 1908 and 1909 were granted (vide Appendix A).

XVIII. With the permission of the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor, the Director of Public Instruction, United Provinces (Mr. de la Fosse) brought forward a scheme for the establishment of a School-leaving Certificate examination and as a means thereto proposed the following amendments to the University regulations :—

“ 1. That the following be added to regulation 3, Chapter XI :—

(iii) The School-leaving Certificate Examination.

“ 2. That a new regulation be inserted after regulation 3, Chapter XI, as follows :—

4. Within fourteen days of joining an affiliated College a candidate who has passed the School-leaving Certificate Examination or the Final Examination of the Mayo College, Ajmer, shall pay to the University through the Principal of his College a matriculation fee of ten rupees.”

The proposer explained the general nature of the examination (Appendix B) and the reasons for Government wishing to introduce it; comparing similar examinations in other countries, particularly Scotland. Some such guarantee of a sound and efficient education was needed for the great majority of pupils, who did not after leaving school proceed to the University; it was needed, for instance, as a suitable test for candidates for Government service; it was also needed for students who wished to go on to institutions like the Roorkee Engineering College, the Cawnpore Agricultural College or the Agra Medical School. It would also be useful to those entering upon a business career. Such an examination, however, was, as the recent Universities Commission had declared, outside the province of a University and must be in the hands of Government. He felt that, inasmuch as the proposed scheme would necessarily interfere to a considerable extent with the Matriculation Examination, the scheme which he was proposing was likely to encounter opposition on the part of the University, but he was authorized to state that Government was prepared to do all that it possibly could to prevent the University in any way suffering financially by the change.

Mr. Jennings, seconded the proposal.

The Rev. Canon Westcott spoke against the proposal mainly on the ground that the proposed examination was destructive of the Matriculation Examination of the University.

The Rev. Dr. Ewing opposed the motion and said that the School-leaving Certificate examination claimed too many advantages. There should be a 3-years' course for the examination in order to be side by side with the University Examination.

He proposed as an amendment that a Sub-Committee be appointed to consider the question thoroughly, and report to the Senate at its next meeting.

Munshi Gokul Prasad seconded the amendment.

The Hon'ble Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya, Mahamahopadhyaya Pandit Adityaram Bhattacharya, and Mr. Pandit also spoke in favour of the amendment, suggesting chiefly an adjournment of the consideration of the scheme.

Mr. Ward, Mr. Archbold, Dr. Zia-ud-din and Mr. Jones, spoke in support of the original motion and against the amendment.

The amendment was then put to the vote and lost.

Babu Ganga Prasad Varma moved a second amendment that the consideration of the question be postponed till the next meeting.

Dr. Ewing seconded this amendment.

The proposal was put to the vote and lost.

The proposals by the Director of Public Instruction were then put to the vote separately and carried.

XIX. On a proposal by the Director of Public Instruction, United Provinces, seconded by Mr. Murray, the following changes in Chapter VII of the University Regulations were accepted:—

1. That section 1 (iii) run : “for what course or courses prescribed for the Matriculation Examination, it undertakes to make provision.”
2. That in section 1(v) the word “instruction” be added between “the” and “health.”
3. That the following words be added at the end of section 3:—

“If the Inspector considers the school worthy of recognition he shall state in what course or courses he recommends that recognition should be given ”
4. That in section 4 after the words “it has been recognised ” the words “in one or more specified courses ” be added.

5. That the following new regulation be added after section 4 :—

“Where a school desires to add to the courses of instruction in respect of which recognition has been granted, the procedure prescribed by the foregoing regulations shall, so far as may be, be followed.”

XX. The Meeting considered the recommendation of the Faculty of Science, accepted by the Syndicate (vide Syndicate resolution No. 154, dated the 9th March, 1907), as well as Mr Ward's proposal regarding the amendment of Regulation 4, Chapter IV, of the University Regulations.

It was resolved that Regulation 4, Chapter IV, of the University Regulations, be amended and read as follows :—

“4. The Faculty of Science shall elect from among its Members Boards of Studies for—

- (i) Physics ;
- (ii) Chemistry ;
- (iii) General Biology ;
- (iv) Mathematics ;
- (v) Drawing and Surveying.

The number of members on each of the above Boards shall not exceed seven.”

XXI. The Registrar placed before the Meeting the report of a joint meeting of the Faculties of Arts and Science on the recommendations of the Sub-Committee appointed by Senate resolution No. XLIII, dated the 11th March, 1907 (vide Appendix C).

It was resolved that consideration of the report be postponed to the next Meeting of the Senate.

XXII. On a proposal by Mr. Ward, seconded by the Director of Public Instruction, U. P., the following proposals were carried :—

(i) That Regulation 4, Chapter IX, be wholly changed to read as follows:—

“No student shall be allowed to migrate from one College to another without a leaving or transfer certificate signed by the Principal of the College, and every such certificate shall certify to the conduct of the student; and every leaving certificate when granted after a student has failed in any University examination shall state the subject or subjects in which he failed.”

(ii) That a new regulation be added to Chapter IX, as follows :—

“10. No student who has been expelled or rusticated by the Principal of a College, shall be admitted into another affiliated College without the permission of the Principal of the aforesaid College.”

XXIII. Under clause (iii), Regulation 18, Chapter I, of the University Regulations, the following proposals were considered :—

1. Proposal by Dr. Hill, seconded by Mr. Ward :—

That Regulation 3, Chapter XVI, read “At the examination for the degree of Bachelor of Science every candidate shall be examined in English and in either—

(A) Mathematics.	. or (B) Chemistry.
Physics.
Chemistry.
	Physics.
	Biology.”

It was resolved that the proposal be accepted.

2. Proposal by Mr. Ward, seconded by Dr. Hill :—

That Section 3, Chapter V of the University Regulations, be amended as follows :—

After the words “three Fellows of the University” add “or Members of Faculties added under Chapter III, Section 13.”

It was resolved that the amendment be carried.

3. Proposals by Rai Bahadur Lala Baij Nath, seconded by Rai Bahadur Ram Saran Das.

(i) That in view of the serious inconvenience to students and of the disturbance of work of colleges, all examinations from the Matriculation to the M.A. in Arts, the B.Sc. and the LLB. be over by the 30th April in each year, and that the Senate record its opinion that where plague is severe, the Syndicate rather change the centre or centres of examination, than change the dates of the examinations.

(ii) That in view of the high percentage of failures at the last Intermediate Examination of the University, the Syndicate do enquire into the causes thereof through a committee or in such other manner as it may think proper, and report the result of its enquiry at the next Meeting of the Senate, so that steps may be taken to guard against it in future.

The first of the above two proposals was withdrawn by the proposer and the second was put to the vote and lost.

XXIV. The Registrar placed before the Meeting a letter No. 1514/ III-416, dated the 7th October, 1907, from the Chief Secretary to Government, United Provinces, asking for the views of the University on the question of giving the people of India wider opportunities of expressing their views on administrative matters.

It was resolved that the letter be referred to the Syndicate for report.

XXV. The Registrar placed before the Meeting :—
